TR 2.10A

35. Saints do more than just read the Bible; they study it diligently to understand and apply it to life.

Short Answer [Each question is worth 3 points.]

Answer the following questions using complete sentences.

36. How is the Bible like a map? A map allows you to have perspective and orient yourself to the world. It shows you the way to your intended destination and helps you find the right path. In a similar way, the Bible shows you how to get your bearings so you can find your way and live well in God's world. It shows you which way to go, enabling you to navigate the world with wisdom.
37. Explain the analogy that the Bible is like a compass. A compass gives direction, or a point of reference. Like a compass, the Bible points to truth.
38. Give two examples each of general revelation and special revelation. Answers will vary. General revelation: any answer relating to creation or our conscience
Special revelation: any answer relating to God revealing himself through Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit, the Scriptures, or miraculous events

Essay [Each question is worth 5 points.]

Answer the following questions with at least one paragraph.

39. Explain why the statement "Truth cannot be known" is a self-refuting claim. Then explain why truth matters. Possible answer: If truth cannot be known, then how do we know this truth claim? It is self-refuting because it contradicts itself. However, truth can be known, and it does matter. Truth is the only foundation on which to build a life. Truth tells us who we are, where we are, who we were created by, and the real story about life and the world we live in.
40. Think about the four common ways people approach and read the Bible today. Describe your own journey from when you first started reading the Bible to how you approach it now. Your answer must refer to at least two of the four ways. Answers will vary but must include at least two of the following: skeptic, seeker, scholar, or saint.
