Chapter 7 Test Answers

TR 7.10A

Fill-in-the-blank [Each answer is worth 2 points. Question 21 is worth 4 points.]

Fill in the missing word(s) to complete each statement.

21. In Genesis 3:15 we see that God's grace first appears in the middle of judgment when God tells the serpent, "He shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel."
22. The belief that sin entered the world when Adam and Eve chose to disobey God is called the fall.
23. Romans 3:23 teaches that "all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God."
24. Adam blamed Eve for giving him the fruit and God for making her in the first place.
25. According to Romans 8:19–22, creation groans because it has been subjected to futility and is under bondage to corruption.
26. The Scriptures affirm that God is not the author, creator, or instigator of evil.

Short Answer [Each question is worth 3 points.]

Answer the following questions using complete sentences.

27. Explain the doctrine of original sin.
The doctrine of original sin is the belief that Adam and Eve's first sin corrupted the nature of their descendants.
28. Did human beings become like God when their eyes were opened after eating the fruit of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil? Explain.
Human beings did not become like God as a result of eating the fruit because they were already like God. They had been created in God's image.
29. Why did God accept Abel's sacrifice?
God accepted Abel's offering because it was given through faith, and without faith it is impossible to please God.

30. How is marriage an example of a covenant?

Marriage is an example of a covenant because it is other-centered. When two people marry, each person makes a vow that clarifies what he or she will do for the other person. They do not vow to make the other person do what they selfishly want done.

Essay [Each question is worth 5 points.]

Answer the following questions with at least one paragraph.

31. What were the consequences of sin on the four relationships of creation?

The consequences of sin on the four relationships of creation were that all relationships were broken. God created people to be in loving relationship with him, but after the first humans sinned, they were afraid of God and hid from him. God created people to be rightly ordered within themselves, but after Adam and Eve sinned, they were ashamed of their nakedness and no longer comfortable with who they were. People now look for significance in ways that can never satisfy. God created people to love one another, but after they sinned, Adam and Eve's relationship was marked by conflict, blame, and power struggles. These problems continue to characterize human relationships. God created people to rule over creation as stewards, but after sin, God said that working the ground would be frustrating for Adam. Now, people abuse animals and pollute the earth.

32. How did God respond to the fall?

God responded to the fall by asking Adam and Eve where they were. He did this so that they would have an opportunity to confess their sin and to repent. He went on to describe the consequences that the first humans would suffer as a result of their sin, including pain in childbirth and difficulty in cultivating the ground. God cursed the ground. God cursed the serpent so that it would slither on the ground. He also said that the woman would have offspring who would bruise the serpent's head, though the serpent would bruise the offspring's heel. Afterward, God made clothes for Adam and Eve and banished them from the garden.

33. Explain why Christians have hope despite the fall.

Christians can have hope despite the fall because God is making provision to save people and creation from the effects of sin. Even as God pronounced judgment on the snake and on the ground after the fall, he also made a promise that the offspring of the woman would bruise the serpent's head. This is often considered to be the first announcement of the gospel in Scripture, a promise that Jesus would come to die on the cross for our sins and then rise again in victory. Christians can continue to hope despite the fall because the Bible records how God has continued to act to bring salvation, healing, and restoration to the universe he created.
