True or False [Each question is worth 1 point.]

Indicate if each statement is true or false. If the statement is false, change the underlined word(s) to make it true.

- T 27. In a sense, everyone, including atheists, is a theologian. _____
- F 28. God has chosen to reveal himself in the fall, the Bible, and through Jesus Christ.
_____ in creation _____
- F 29. Because of God's modalism, he alone causes everything to exist and can sustain its existence. aseity _____
- T 30. Although we cannot know God exhaustively, we can know him truly. _____
- T 31. Because God is spirit and is incarnate in Jesus, we know two things about the nature of reality—both spirit and matter exist. _____
- F 32. God's omnipotence means that he possesses complete knowledge of the past, present, and future. omniscience _____
- F 33. The doctrine of the Trinity affirms the existence of one God in three modes.
_____ Persons _____
- F 34. Tritheism confirms the doctrine of the Trinity. _____ denies _____
- T 35. Matthew 3:16–17 speaks of the three Persons of the Trinity. _____

Fill-in-the-blank [Each answer is worth 2 points.]

Fill in the missing word(s) to complete each statement.

36. Perfect being theology is a theological view that defines God as the greatest possible being.
37. Immutable means that God is constant and unchanging.
38. God is holy, which means he is set apart.
39. The doctrine of the Trinity is the orthodox Christian belief in God's tri-unity— one Being in three Persons.
40. In the Old Testament, Isaiah is the prophet who prophesied about God the Son coming to redeem humankind.

Short Answer [Each question is worth 3 points.]

Answer the following questions using complete sentences.

41. Is the egg a good example of the Trinity? Why or why not? Include the term tritheism in your answer. An egg has three separate parts—the shell, white, and yolk. However, each part of the egg is a separate and distinct part. Using an egg as an analogy for the Trinity is very close to tritheism, or the belief that the Trinity is composed of three separate and distinct gods instead of one God in three Persons.
42. How is it beneficial for us that God is righteous? Because God is righteous, he is just and morally pure. God does right by everyone. He cannot be bribed or bullied into committing injustice or turning a blind eye to evil. He is in the business of righting wrongs both in our hearts and in the world. We have all failed to be righteous—that is why Jesus gives us his righteousness when we put our trust in him.
43. Respond to this statement, “The goal of theology is to learn more or think more accurately about God.” The goal of theology is not just to learn more or think more accurately about God. While these things are admirable and a great desire, ultimately, we want to know God personally and love him with all of our mind and heart. As we grow in our love for God, we will also grow in our desire to know his thoughts and values. The best theology is more than an academic discipline; it is a way of loving, of knowing, and of cherishing God. Good theology is an act of worship of the very highest sort.
44. List the 12 attributes of God that you learned about in this chapter. God is self-existent, spirit and incarnate in Jesus, personal, eternal, omniscient, omnipotent, omnipresent, immutable, holy, wise, righteous, and loving.

Chapter 13 Test Answers

TR 13.10A

Essay [The question is worth 6 points, each reason is worth 2 points.]

Answer the following question with at least one paragraph for each reason.

45. Why does the Trinity matter to the Christian faith? Give three detailed reasons.

1. God's trinitarian nature means that before creation, the Father was sharing life and love with the Son and the Holy Spirit. God created us, not because he needed us to be who he is, but because it is in his nature to share life and love.
2. Jesus, the Son, being in perfect harmony with the Father and Spirit, shares the life of the Trinity with us in unique ways. Jesus is the only one through whom we can know God and be saved. The Father showed his love for us by sending his only Son to the earth, so that we might live through him. Jesus not only shows us what God is like, he shows us what it means to be truly human. He models how we can do the works of the Father in the power of the Spirit. He invites us to receive God's love through faith and give it out again to others.
3. The Trinity provides the model for Christian community. In the Trinity, there is both diversity (three distinct Persons) and unity (one God). The members of the Trinity are distinct Persons, yet they are all united in a perfect relationship of love and harmony. Christian community should also be characterized by unity and diversity. Even though each member has specific characteristics and gifts, all members receive the same Spirit and are part of the same body. The gospel does not demand that we ignore our differences, but it does call us all to unity.
As we love one another and strive for peace and reconciliation, we reflect the harmonious relationship of Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.
