

Chapter 10 Test– Answer Key

Matching [Each correct answer is worth 1 point.]

Match each item to the correct answer.

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|--|
| F 1. Nothing in particular | A. The belief that the existence of God or gods is unknowable or unprovable |
| D 2. Individualism | B. A worldview that advocates a public society free from the influence of religion |
| E 3. Atheism | C. A worldview primarily concerned with human dignity, potential, and well-being |
| A 4. Agnosticism | D. A worldview in which individual independence and autonomy are paramount |
| C 5. Humanism | E. The belief that God or gods do not exist |
| B 6. Secularism | F. People who do not identify as atheist or agnostic and are not affiliated with any religious group |

Multiple Choice [Each correct answer is worth 1 point.]

Circle the correct answer(s) from the choices below. Some will have more than one answer.

7. The nones are . . .
 - a. people who do not affiliate with any particular religion.
 - b. religious misconceptions.
 - c. atheists and agnostics.
 - d. people with no beliefs.
 - e. people who describe their religion as nothing in particular.
8. Secularists . . .
 - a. trust in God.
 - b. don't trust in God.
 - c. trust in scientific achievement.
 - d. trust in technological progress.
 - e. are skeptical of religious truth claims.
9. Scripture tells us . . .
 - a. we should blindly accept and never question Christianity.
 - b. that we should be an individualistic society.
 - c. we should use our minds.
 - d. to use reason.
 - e. to accept everything people in authority tell us.

10. Which of the following are part of C. S. Lewis' arguments?
 - a. If there was no intelligence behind creation, then nobody designed our brains for the purpose of thinking.
 - b. Science makes religion unnecessary.
 - c. Thought is a random by-product of physical and chemical reactions.
 - d. Unless we believe in God, we cannot believe in thought.
 - e. If we cannot believe in thought, we can't use thought to disbelieve in God.

11. Which of the following statements can be used to refute the misconception that religion promotes prejudice, violence, and the subjugation of women?
 - a. Christianity teaches fundamental equality between all human beings regardless of race or gender.
 - b. Jesus urged us to treat others as we would like to be treated.
 - c. Scripture's vision for the new creation includes peace between all members of creation.
 - d. The Bible encourages people to engage in these immoral practices if it is appropriate to do so.
 - e. We have the personal freedom to do what we want without interference.

12. Which statement below is not true about Stephen Fry's explanation of morality?
 - a. Fry says we don't need religious authority to tell us how to live.
 - b. Fry implies that religious people do not think for themselves.
 - c. Fry claims that religious people are dependent upon religious authorities to tell them what to do.
 - d. Fry's argument is valid and sound.
 - e. Fry lists what we should do to make moral decisions, which inadvertently sets himself up as the authority he said we don't need.

13. Sometimes Tonya says that she doesn't believe there is a God. At other times she says she's not sure. Tonya could best be described as a(n) . . .
 - a. none.
 - b. nothing in particular.
 - c. atheist.
 - d. agnostic.
 - e. secularist.

14. Secularism is to _____ as humanism is to _____.
 - a. individualism, religion
 - b. scientific knowledge, human dignity
 - c. agnosticism, literature
 - d. Christians, nones
 - e. modernism, the Renaissance

15. At its worst, an individualistic society can lead to . . .
 - a. innovation.
 - b. traditional communities.
 - c. humanism.
 - d. very religious people.
 - e. narcissism.
16. Faith, or the lack of faith, should be based on . . .
 - a. substantial evidence only.
 - b. personal experience only.
 - c. substantial evidence and personal experience.
 - d. misconceptions.
 - e. scientific facts.
17. Some people believe that religion will interfere with their personal life because . . .
 - a. they see the cost of discipleship and decide it's not worth it.
 - b. some see religion as a negative force.
 - c. they don't want to be accountable to God.
 - d. they don't want anyone telling them what to do.
 - e. none of the above

True or False [Each question is worth 1 point.]

Indicate if each statement is true or false. If the statement is false, change the underlined word to make it true.

- F 18. A worldview is a specific system of belief, worship, or conduct that prescribes certain responses to the sacred, divine, or supernatural. religion
- F 19. Individualism is a movement that predates secularism. Humanism
- F 20. Christianity is a relationship, not a religion. and
- T 21. Psalm 95:6 tells us to worship, bow down, and kneel before the Lord, our Maker.
- F 22. God created us to be in worship with himself, ourselves, others, and creation.
relationship
- T 23. Indoctrination is not necessarily bad, whether the principles being taught are religious or not. _____
- F 24. Christians say that God is the subjective reference point who determines what is right and wrong. objective

T 25. Drugs, sports, money, work, power, fame, sex, and social media can be forms of modern-day idolatry. _____

Fill-in-the-blank [Each answer is worth 2 points.]

Fill in the missing word(s) to complete each statement.

26. The Bible verse Matthew 7:12 states: “So whatever you wish that others would do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets.”
27. Since science cannot prove or disprove God’s existence, agnostics think it is better to leave the question alone or remain open about it.
28. Secular humanists share the same concerns as their humanist forebears but are also agnostic or atheistic.
29. “Do not despise prophecies, but test everything; hold fast what is good. Abstain from every form of evil” (1 Thessalonians 5:20–22).

Short Answer [Each question is worth 3 points.]

Answer the following questions using complete sentences.

30. Explain what problems might arise in individualistic societies. What are the benefits?
Individualistic societies emphasize the individual over the group. Some problems that might arise are selfishness, greed, and narcissism. Challenging the status quo, breaking from tradition, innovation, and reform can be benefits of individualistic societies.
31. Give three reasons why Jesus is relevant for us today.
Jesus shows us what God is really like. Jesus helps us become who we were created to be. Jesus transforms our relationships with other people and creation.
32. Contrast right worship with idolatry.
Worship includes singing and lifting praises to God, as well as living so that God’s power and goodness are made known to the world. True religion is to visit orphans and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself pure (James 1:27). When we worship God in these ways, we are declaring his true worth, ascribing to him the glory and honor of which he alone is worthy. When we reject God, we transfer our worship to other things or other people, which is idolatry.

Essay [Each question is worth 5 points.]

Answer the following questions with at least one paragraph.

33. How has humanism changed since the Renaissance?

When humanism first came about during the Renaissance, it referred to the study of the humanities. The first humanists included people such as Christians, agnostics, atheists, and many others. They promoted justice and human dignity, and they desired harmony. In the mid-1900s, secular humanism arose. Secular humanists usually believe in the essential goodness of humans and argue that religion is a deterrent to human well-being and needs to be abandoned for society to flourish.

34. How would you respond to someone who believes that religion is unnecessary because of science?

Possible answer: Science can be used for both good and evil. It can tell us how but not why. It can help us do things, but it cannot make us good. To address these issues, we need a spiritual aspect—religion. Science is impossible without assumptions borrowed from a Christian worldview. For example, to do science, we must believe that our minds can lead us to the truth. But if our minds are just the product of random processes, how can they be trusted to tell us the truth about reality? Unless our brains were designed, as Christianity affirms, we cannot trust our own thinking. And if we cannot trust our own thinking to be true, we cannot be confident that the conclusions we draw from science are true.

35. Explain why the statement “I don’t have religious experiences, so God isn’t real” is a misconception. The absence of religious experience is not sufficient to prove that God is not real. This is a fallacy—an argument from silence. Since many people claim to have religious experiences, it is important to research and investigate the sources. Also, there are many things we believe even though we have not personally experienced them. Finally, it is possible that the person may not know or understand what a religious experience of God is or feels like; therefore, he or she may have had one and didn’t know it.