True or False [Each question is worth 1 point.]

Indicate if each statement is true or false. If the statement is false, change the underlined word to make it true.

T 21. Scripture does not argue for God's existence; it assumes it. _____

T 22. For much of history, scientists believed the universe was eternal. _____

F 23. The constants of gravitational force, electromagnetic force, strong nuclear force, and weak nuclear force provide support for biological information. fine-tuning _____

F 24. The multiverse theory explains the apparent design of the universe.
_____ intelligent design _____

T 25. An objective moral value is a statement about what is right and wrong that applies to everyone. _____

T 26. Women were considered unreliable witnesses in the Jewish culture, yet the Gospels mention the women at Jesus' empty tomb. _____

Fill-in-the-blank [Each answer is worth 2 points.]

Fill in the missing word(s) to complete each statement.

27. The cause of the universe must be beyond the space-time universe and spaceless, timeless, immaterial, uncaused and unimaginably powerful; these descriptors all apply to

_____ God _____

28. When we say that something is wrong, unfair, or dishonest, we are appealing to a standard of _____ morality _____ that we expect other people to know and adhere to.

29. In the miracle of the resurrection, Jesus offers us startling proof for the _____ existence _____ of Christianity's God.

30. Though Hume defined _____ miracles _____ as "violation[s] of the laws of nature," Christians believe they are a foreshadowing of the restoration of all things.

Short Answer [Each question is worth 3 points.]

Answer the following questions using complete sentences.

31. What scientific findings contradict the idea that the universe had no beginning?
Albert Einstein's general theory of relativity predicted that the universe was not static but expanding. So, there was a point when the universe began to expand. Hubble's law confirmed that galaxies are moving away from Earth. The second law of thermodynamics says the universe is running out of energy. Because the universe is losing energy, it cannot be eternal.

32. State two ways in which the universe exhibits design.
Two ways in which the universe exhibits design are fine-tuning and the biological information in DNA.

33. Why is our faith futile if Christ has not risen from the dead?
Possible answer: If Jesus has not risen from the dead, then his claims to be God are not proven true, and his disciples all believed a lie.

Essay [Each question is worth 5 points.]

Answer the following questions with at least one paragraph.

34. Refute the claim that Jesus didn't die on the cross.

Possible answer: The claim that Jesus did not die on the cross does not account for the facts recorded in the gospel. The Roman soldiers had lots of experience with crucifixion and knew how long it took for people who were crucified to die. They speared his side and made sure he was dead. They would not have made a mistake about whether Jesus died or not.

If Jesus had been buried alive, he would have been too weak to escape a tomb guarded by Roman soldiers. He would not have inspired the disciples, James, and Paul to worship him.

35. Explain what attitude Christians should take toward demons and the devil.

Possible answer: The Bible teaches that we should take them seriously. We should be aware that demons and the devil seek to deceive people and lead them into sin. However, we should not fear them. They are created beings and God is sovereign over them. We know that Jesus demonstrated his power and triumphed over them through his death and resurrection. The Bible says that we are in a battle against spiritual forces; we should pray and put on the armor of God. The powers of evil are no match for God.

36. Describe why deism is not compatible with the Christian life.

Possible answer: Deism is not compatible with the Christian life because God is still active and involved in the world. Christians believe that God answers prayer. Anyone who trusts Christ is made new and receives the Holy Spirit. To be a Christian you must believe that miracles are possible, especially the miracle of the resurrection.
